CORK MAYOR HERE.

Peter J. MacSwiney, of New York, brother of the late Terence MacSwiney, Lord Mayor of Cork, and Daniel O'Callaghan, present Lord Mayor of Cork, arrived in Newport News last Tuesday night as stowaways on the American steamer West Cannon from Cork. Both were taken in charge of immigration authorities, but on showing his passport MacSwiney was released, and the Lord Mayor was freed as soon as authorities arrived. The Lord Mayor took up his residence at the time at a hotel, refusing to discuss any details of his visit. According to MacSwiney, however, O'Callaghan is in this country at the invitation of the Committee of One Hundred in Washington investigating the Irish situation. O'Callaghan is under guard furnished by immigration officials.

"The British would not allow the Lord Mayor to visit America, and he stayed away on the steamer," MacSwiney stated. "I could have come back as a passenger, but preferred to make the trip with him as I now prefer to remain at his side while he is being detained."

"I don't wish to be considered disloyal to the press," the Lord Mayor said, when seen. "but I prefer to say nothing until I have had my status defined by the proper authorities."

A message of greeting to Daniel O'Callaghan, Lord Mayor of Cork, who arrived at Newport News as a stowaway on the steamer West Cannon, was sent from New York City on Wednesday by Hollingsworth Wood, Chairman of the Committee of One Hundred investigating the Irish situation. The message, which was sent to the Lord Mayor "in care of immigration authorities," Newport News, follows:

"Delighted to hear of your arrival. Commission, having received no answer to our communication to you, has set next hearing for 17th. It earlier date will accommodate you, please advise."

Mr. Wood says that Mayor O'Callaghan was invited "some time ago" to visit the United States for the purpose of testifying before the committee.

DESERVED ELECTION.

Enstat L. Williams and James O'Connor were this week re-elected Commissioners and Recorders respectively by the Judges of the Jefferson Circuit Court for a term of four years each. They have proven faithful servants and two of the most popular and accommodating men about the Court House, and their election meets with approval of the general public.

SOCIAL WELFARE CENTER.

At a meeting of the Catholic Women's League, Columbus, Ohio, the Right Rev. Bishop Hartley announced the probable construction of a Catholic Home for Girls during the coming year. Such an edifice will not only provide a much-needed home for delinquent women, but will also be the center for the social welfare work of the Catholics of that city.

PUBLIC APPEAL.

Approved by Cardinal Gibbons and leading bankers, merchants and manufacturers in all sections of the United States, the following public appeal has been issued by the American Committee on Relief in Ireland:

"To the American Public: In Ireland today thousands of women and children have been driven to the pitiful refuge of the fields and open country. Balbriggan, Granard, Tralee, Templemore, Trim, Tobelcurry, Lisburn, Thurles and numerous towns and villages have been burned and are in ruins. In Cork alone acres of business houses and homes have been wiped out by fire, and it is before it reaches a point where it may menace the very existence of the Irish people, the American Committee for Relief in Ireland has been formed. This committee is a non-political and non-sectarian body, solely humanitarian in aim, which seeks the co-operation of all those in whom human suffering evokes sympathy. This American committee proposes to supply relief to the women and children in Ireland, without regard to political or religious distinctions, through trained relief workers, distributing foodstuffs, clothing, building materials and medical stores. The suffering and the helpless in Ireland seek aid from the American people who have never yet refused an appeal from the suffering and helpless. To relieve the bitter need of the Irish people, the undersigned therefore confidently appeal for aid to the humanity of America. There is little to add to the above, save to point out that Ireland is virtually the only place in the world where the destruction of resources has been continuous. Today industry is paralyzed in Ireland and the greater part of the able-bodied population is leading a hunted and fugitive existence. If present conditions continue unrelieved the Irish race in Ireland faces virtual annihilation. We are confident that Americans of every class and creed will respond promptly to avert the terrible fate menacing a people to whom they are so closely bound by ties of kinship and of a common heritage."

MRS. MACSWINEY'S MESSAGE.

Before sailing for Ireland last Saturday Mrs. Muriel MacSwiney, wife of the martyred Mayor of Cork, gave this farewell message to America:

"It is with a feeling of the greatest regret that I must take myself away from the shores of your great republic. Your hospitality and your affection toward me have created in my heart such appreciation and affection in return that I fear I cannot adequately express it. When I came it was with a torn heart—its wounds still fresh with the loss of a cherished husband—and having constantly before my eyes the sufferings of my beloved country, which has offended no nation, and yet is enduring martyrdom. Your spontaneous and generous expressions to me, which I feel represent the spirit of America, have consoled me, and indeed, brought sunshine into the very depths of my sorrow; but the wounds of my country are still neglected. Helpless itself, no nation has offered to release it from the chains that have been placed about it. The victim of such cruelty and crime that even its own tormentors condemn themselves as they strike—where no home is safe from the firebrand and ravisher, and no person is sure of his life from day to day—and all this because she seeks to walk in the path of liberty which you first made. My last expressions are those of deepest gratitude and my last request is that you may speedily relieve the devastation of Ireland and help it to stand by your side a free and independent nation."

CARDINAL'S MESSAGE.

Charley Foeter, former County Judge, has his new head of the penal institution at Washington, D. C., received the following message, specially written by Cardinal Gibbons for Piusin' Through, the Jellier's Christmas publication:

"The men and women in prison everywhere can bring solid comfort to their hearts by submitting to the ways of Divine Providence, and speaking with Him. How many have buried themselves in the desert so as to talk with God? They also can commune with God by daily, hourly prayer, and thus strengthen their souls, also shorten their time."

ANNUAL CROP REPORT.

The annual revised estimates of production of crops in Kentucky for 1920, just issued by the United States Bureau of Crop Estimates and State Commissioner of Agriculture W. C. Hanna, indicates increases in production of corn, oats, barley, potatoes, apples, peaches, pears, sorghum, soy beans and clover seed; the same production as in 1919 of beans, cowpeas and sweet potatoes, and decreased production only of tobacco, wheat, rye and hay. The wheat crop condition this winter promises a much larger yield than that of the preceding year.

NEW ALBANY.

Old High Cost did not affect the generosity of the members of St. Mary's and Holy Trinity churches, New Albany, who generously contributed $2,135 to the Christmas collection for the orphans of the diocese. This was the largest collection that has been made there for the orphanage.
